

Celebrate

THE HEALING POWER OF MUSIC

Announcing

WXPN Musicians On Call at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital

WXPN Musicians On Call is a free community-outreach program* to deliver the healing power of music through live performances by volunteer musicians at the bedsides of Jefferson Hospital patients, and, soon, through access to an in-house library of compact discs for our patients' listening pleasure.

* Made possible by the generous support of WXPN Members and Business Sponsors TIAA-CREF and AstraZeneca

Kenli Mattus
Volunteer Musician

Helen Leicht
WXPN Midday and
"Philly Local" Host

Mutlu
Volunteer Musician

Volunteers are needed to guide musicians on their future visits to Thomas Jefferson University Hospital and to donate used CDs for our patients to enjoy – call 215-955-6222.

For more information, visit www.xpn.org/moc.php

- ★ Jefferson Hospital is proud to partner with 88.5 WXPN, the listener-supported radio station of the University of Pennsylvania, in Musicians On Call.
- ★ Musicians On Call, a nonprofit organization formed in 1999 in New York City, uses music and entertainment to promote and complement the healing process for patients.
- ★ Musicians participate in weekly "rounds" by giving in-room performances, which may be requested by the patients themselves, family and friends, or upon recommendation by physicians, nurses, social workers or other clinicians.

Thomas Jefferson
University Hospital

Advanced Medicine. Superior Care.™